

Academic Freedom

Teachers shall be free to discuss controversial ideas and to select and employ materials and, methods of instruction. Such freedoms should be used judiciously and prudently.

However, academic freedom is not an absolute. It must be exercised within the law and the basic ethical responsibilities of the teaching profession. Those responsibilities include:

1. Understanding of our democratic tradition and its methods;
2. Concern for the welfare, growth, maturity and development of children;
3. Appropriate presentation of appropriate material for children's intellectual and emotional development;
4. Judgment in selecting and employing materials and methods of instruction.
